Production information

Ads requiring work to be done by the publisher will incur an additional charge. Media and advertising materials are kept by the publisher for one year and then destroyed.

For any questions relating to production specifications or materials, including requests for extensions, or how to use our FTP site, contact our Ad Traffic Manager as shown at right.

File Format

We support PDF files generated by Adobe Acrobat using the X-1A Job Option Settings for Distiller. In order for prepress to generate printable PDFs, it is important that the native file be prepared accordingly.

To prepare native files for printable PDFs:

- Use Postscript (Type 1) fonts only. No TrueType, Windows/PC or custom fonts accepted.
- All fonts need to be embedded in the PDF file.
- Do not nest EPS files in other EPS files.
- Four-color solids should not exceed SWOP density of 280%.
- No spot colors can be used in any portion of the file.

Professional Media Group will verify that materials are within our specifications. Advertising material must be delivered on time so quality control measures may be performed. Late material may miss these checking procedures which could result in errors. It is the responsibility of the sender to supply material to our specifications. University Business magazine reserves the right to refuse any material that does not meet the required specifications.
